

The Minutes of Evidence project invites you to attend:

Just Encounters: Bringing Together Education, Arts & Research

A free public forum that brings together leading people in education, the arts, research, community and government, to talk about new ways of engaging with history and structural justice. Themes include: the nature of settler colonialism in Victoria; the capacity of verbatim theatre to recreate history and stimulate broader engagement with issues of justice; the capacity of law and criminal justice to address structural injustice; the role of the arts in justice education; new ways of teaching history and justice in schools; and Indigenous and Victorian histories in the new national curriculum.

Featuring a reading by actors of selected extracts from

Coranderrk: We Will Show The Country

a verbatim-theatre play that brings back to life the 1881 Parliamentary Inquiry, at which men, women and children of the Coranderrk community testified.

Friday 15 August: from 10am to 3.30pm
State Library of Victoria

Village Roadshow Theatrette (enter via 179 La Trobe St)

Lunch and afternoon tea provided

Read the full programme and register your attendance at:

minutesofevidence.com.au/justencounters

(Places are limited: secure a seat by registering your attendance today!)